REFLECTIONS . . .

We look into the mirror of the past,

We see our high school years go passing by.

Our memories start crowding thick and fast—

Joys, sorrows; successes, failures; pleasures, drudgery:

“Remember the four overtimes?”

“I never knew before how soap was made.”

“I’ll never forget the night I met Tom.”

All these left their impressions.

But now—

Now we turn our thoughts from past away

To make some new impressions which will stay.

DEDICATION

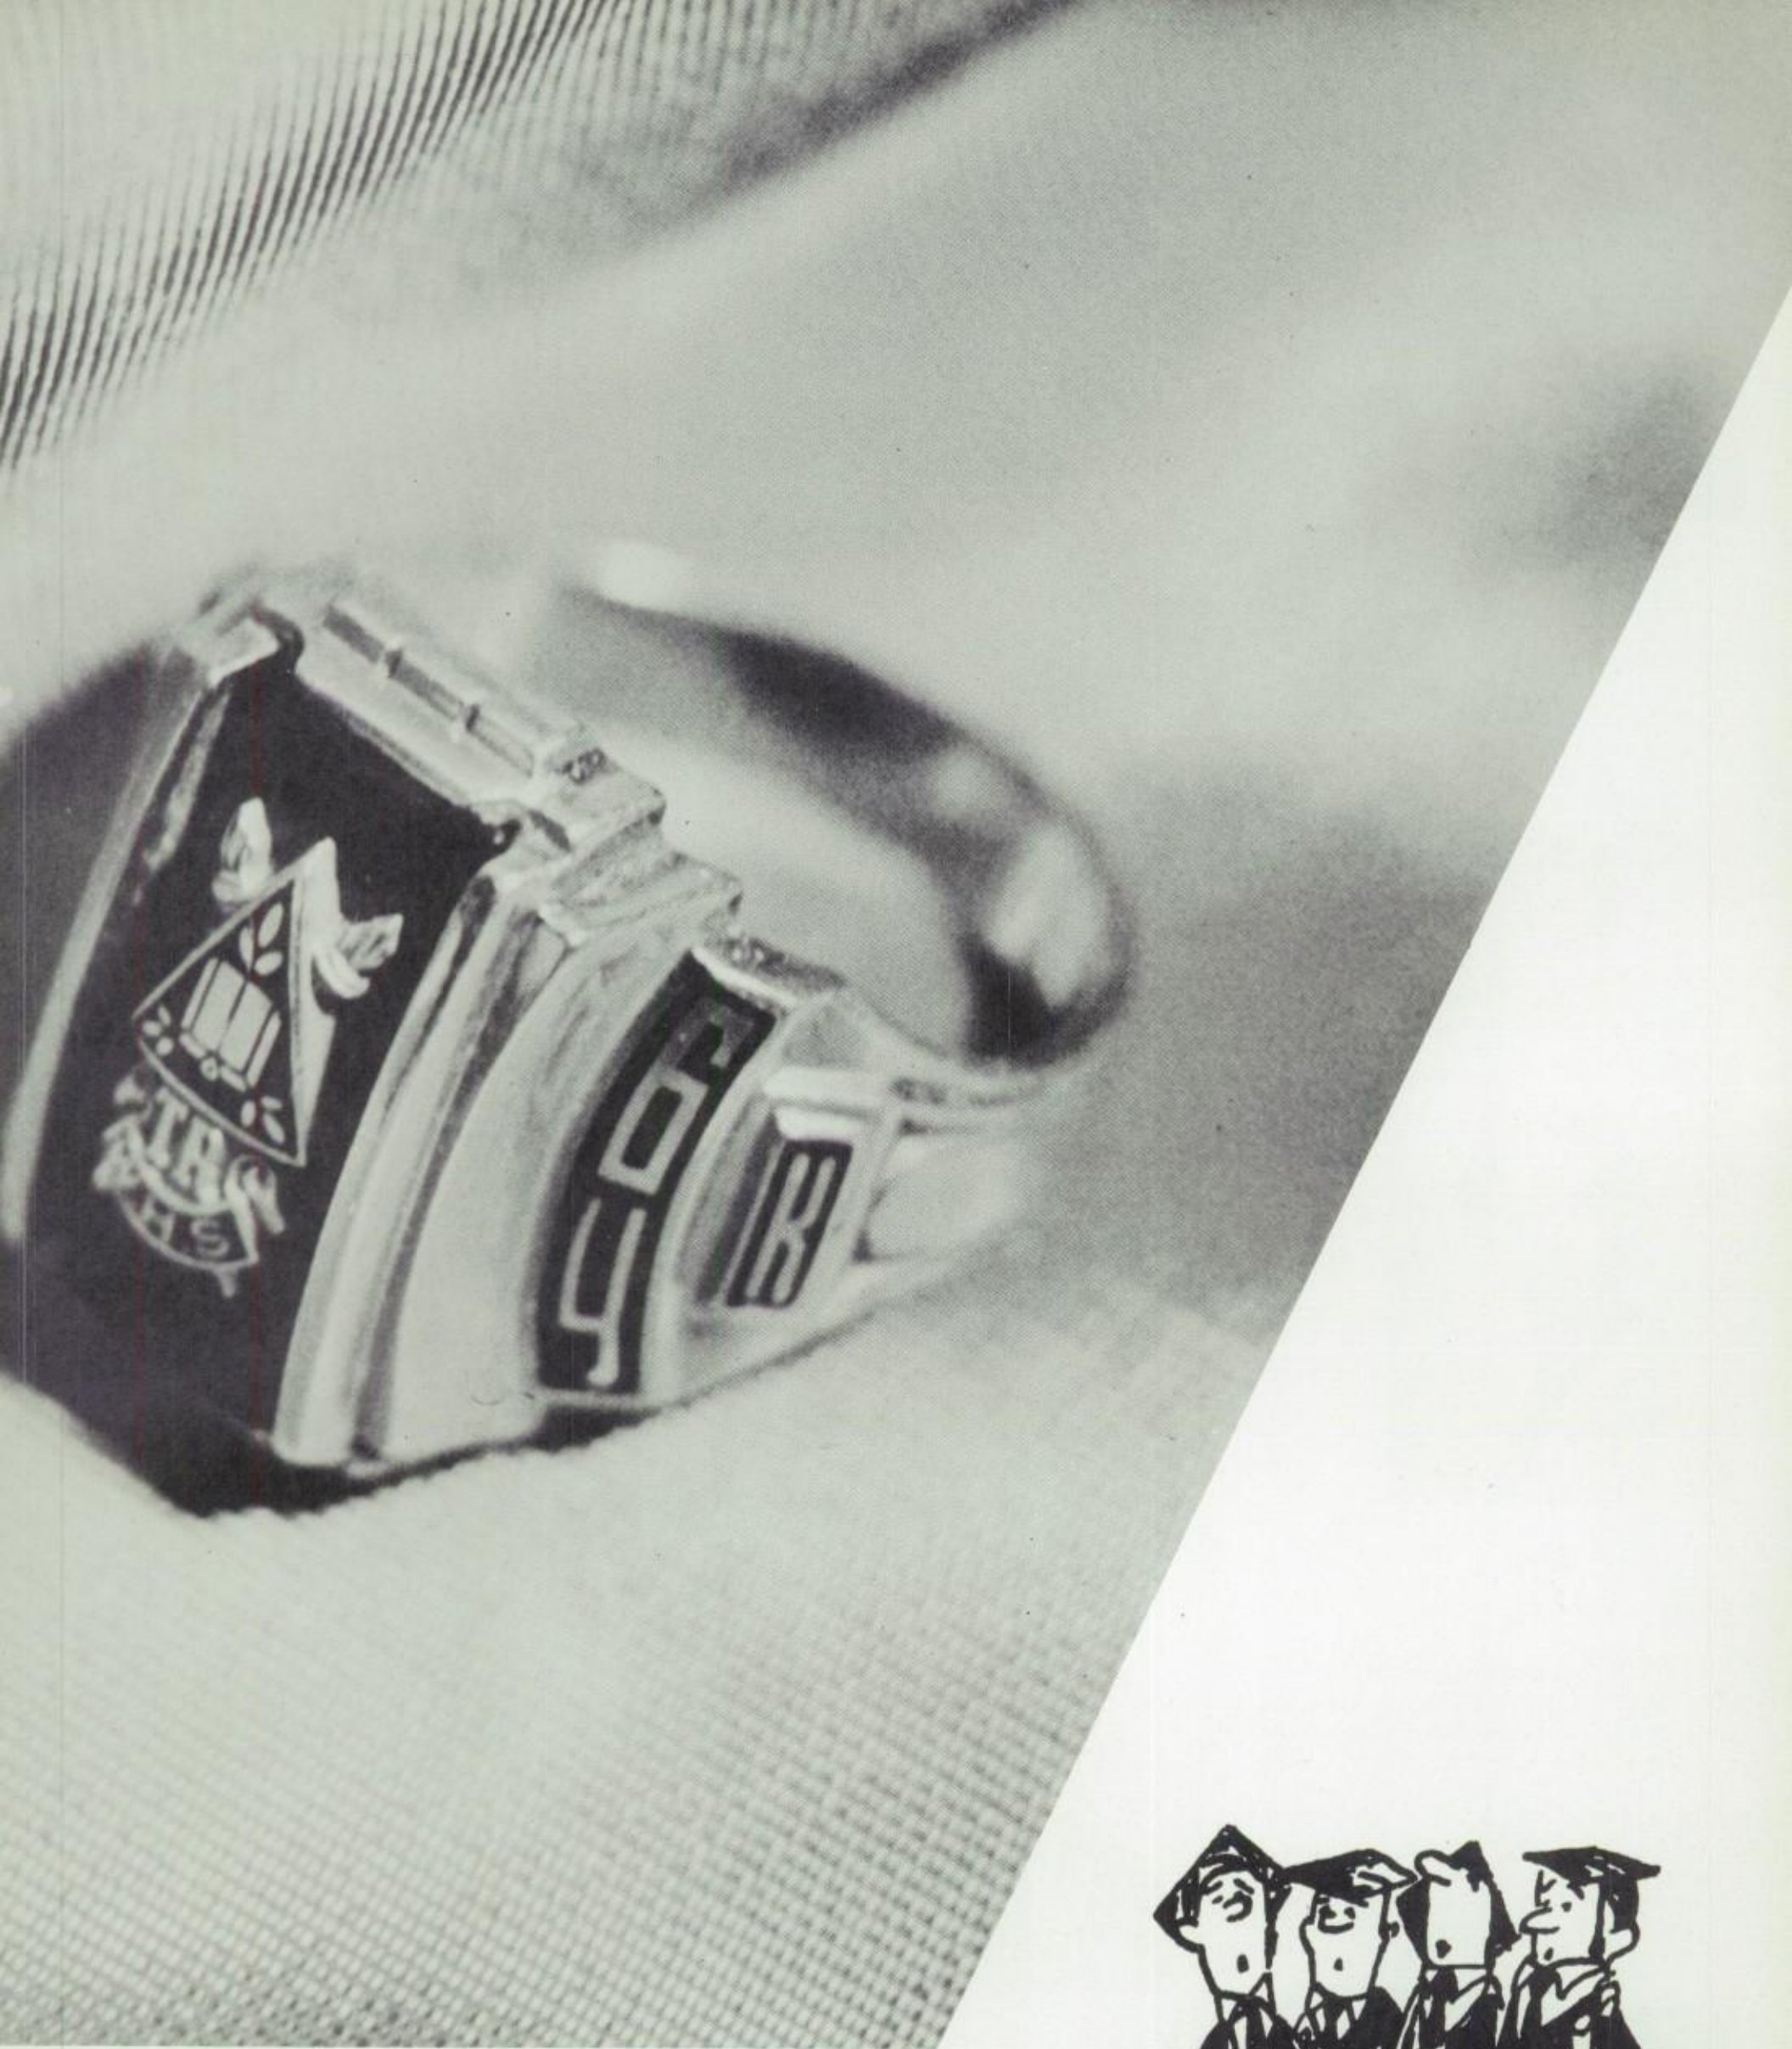

Mr. Charles Spring

This year marks the end of the sixteenth year of long and faithful service by Mr. Charles Spring to WHS. Through his dry humor, friendliness, and cajolery, he has made many friends in this and past senior classes. As we reflect on the last four years, Mr. Spring's image will bring back happy memories of bygone days.

GUIDANCE

Miss Ruth Wawirka

Mr. Ronald Thomley

The reflections of the past 1963-1964 school year couldn't be complete without including our dedicated faculty. In spite of occasional conflicts, the faculty of WHS is a skillful group of patient men and women who are both teacher and friend. Behind them are many years of knowledge, experience, and ability. These are all passed on to each graduating class not only in the classroom, but also in athletics, clubs, and personal guidance. Because these teachers have given their time and talents, each student is helped, in some way, along the road of life.

All school friends and teachers, I wish you all the best.
A nice town with wonderful people, a family who has taken care of me for a whole year, a good school with active students who always were so nice to me. All this I am leaving when I go home to Iceland this summer, but one thing I am taking with me: the memories from a wonderful year in Two Rivers and all the experiences I had.

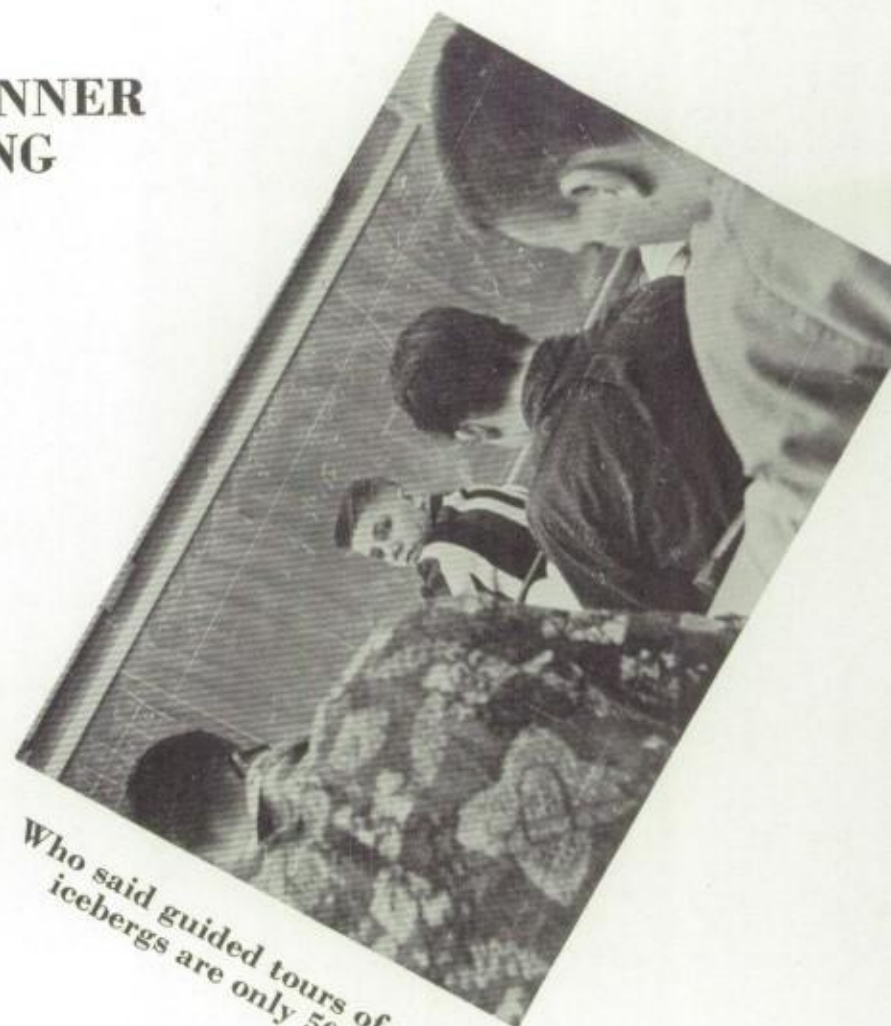

Thanks for giving me all these memories. I hope I will see most of you soon again.

FAREWELL

MRS. IRMA KLAUS

In the course of their four years at Washington High School, all students (unless they happen to be blessed with perpetual perfect health) come into contact with Mrs. Irma Klaus, the visiting teacher. This year she took over the additional task of handling the absence and tardy excuses in the office. As adviser to the Junior Red Cross and originator of the local American Field Service program, Mrs. Klaus has served the school well.

MRS. RUTH JONES

Turning out skilled homemakers for the pride of our school has been the task of Mrs. Ruth Jones for the last twenty-three years. Although perhaps only the girls came to know her well, she will always be remembered by students and faculty. Working diligently with the Nurses' Aides, as well as her classes, Mrs. Jones has done her part to prepare the girls of Washington High for the future.
